SYNOPSIS

1 Cash Balance

Cash balance as at 31 December 2018 - $1.027m

2 Net cash from operating activities – 1 October to 31 December 2018

Net cash from operating activities for the quarter was a deficit of $1.318m.

Net cash across all activities for the quarter was a deficit of $838k.

During the quarter, convertible notes of $1.16m matured and the Company secured commitments to further extend $898k of the notes to a maturity date to 30 June 2019 with a coupon rate of 15%. Following the end of the quarter, $265k of matured convertible notes were repaid to note holders and new convertible notes totalling $234k were issued on the same terms as the convertible notes were extended during the quarter.

The Company also entered into a $500k loan facility with Director, David Slack, of which $500k was drawn at the end of December 2018. The loan is repayable by 30 June 2019 with interest of 15% payable per annum. Subject to shareholder approval, the loan will be converted into a convertible note, on the same terms as the convertible notes were extended during the quarter.

Costs associated with the production of Terra Dura have increased cash outflows during the quarter and primarily relate to inventory accumulation. There were also a number of one-off payments made during the quarter relating to staff changes.

3 Company Update

During the quarter the Company observed solid performance of its core business product, the fourth generation of its proven Failsafe and Failsafe Emergency brake range, with December year-to-date Product Sales being consistent with PY.

As previously reported, during the quarter the decision was made to undertake a redesign of the Terra Dura product. A broad range of domestic and global customers had been trialling Terra Dura brakes over a number of months. Several of those trials were concluded successfully, however in trials under extreme mining conditions difficulties with the polymer housing design were experienced.

The Company has already commenced a design upgrade of Terra Dura that will allow greater performance in all extreme conditions, and particularly extremely harsh mining applications. The launch date for the redesign will be confirmed upon finalisation of the design changes and will follow comprehensive testing in harsh mining conditions. In the interim, existing Terra Dura customers will continue to be supported by the Company.

The Company wishes to confirm that the market demand for Terra Dura remains unchanged and substantial. Until Terra Dura is re-released to the market, the Company will continue to focus on sales of its proven and trusted Failsafe brakes.

During the quarter, the company undertook an organisational review which has resulted in both the leadership team being strengthened and the identification of cost saving initiatives which will result in a reduction of corporate overhead. As a result of this organisational review, John Annand was appointed Chief Executive Officer and the engineering capabilities of the Company were significantly strengthened with the appointment of Tony Van Litsenborgh as Engineering Manager. The appointment of Mr Litsenborgh brings to the Company an engineering discipline that will ensure the efficient and effective product design, development and release to market of future ABT braking and associated product solutions.

With these appointments, the Company is now well placed to achieve its ambitious growth strategy capitalising on ABT's core Failsafe product range whilst at the same time undertaking the redesign of the Terra Dura product which will address the needs of a substantial Australian and global market.

The cost saving initiatives referred to above have commenced and will continue into the current quarter. Once this program is completed the Company will inform the market of the cost savings achieved in our endeavour to returning to a cash neutral position.

In parallel to the existing product range opportunities, the Company is in early stage discussions with a number of potential customers regarding providing innovative braking solutions for non-mining applications. In addition, with the objective of achieving the Company's growth strategy, a key strategic initiative is being implemented to identify strategic partners and opportunities that will significantly upscale the business.
